At Oakland, September 6th, Alfred Palmer was arrested for an attempt at rape, for an assault on a girl 8 years old. He called the little girl from the street into a drug store, where he was employed, saying he would give her some pictures. The prisoner is 18 years old.

Mr. N. J. Morgan, New River, Va., says that his wife, having suffered a long time from rheumatism, was induced to try St. Jacobs Oil, and it gave almost instant relief and had a most happy effect.

DEMOCRATIC LOVE FOR SOLDIERS.

One of the most ludicrous of the many ludicrous things sprung upon the country by the Democratic leaders in Congress is their attempt to push their party to the fore as the soldier's friend, and their strenuous efforts to pull the wool over the eyes of our veterans by a professed interest in their welfare. The most notable instance of this was Springer's resolution, to make it obligatory with the Secretaries to appoint none but Union soldiers to the Adjutant General's, Surgeon General's, and pension offices, under the late increase of force in those departments. That it was the usual Democratic bid for soldier vote just before an election, can be demonstrated by looking back to the Forty-Sixth (Democratic) Congress, when they had ample opportunity to prove their love for the boys in blue, and their desire to see them provided for.

To that Congress the Democratic party sent 13 Union soldiers, the Republicans 54. The Speaker was a Peace Democrat—one of those stabbers in the back of the Yankee soldiery. The Sergeant-at-Arms was an Ohio Copperhead. The Doorkeeper was an ex-rebel General. The Postmaster was a Virginia rebel. The Assistant Superintendent of the Document-room was an ex-rebel Colonel. The file clerk was an ex-rebel Major. The file clerk's assistant was an ex-rebel Captain. On the soldier roll (which by law is limited to 11 members, "all of whom shall be disabled Union soldiers") were three who never served in the army, and five who, though soldiers, were not disabled. On the messenger's roll of 20 members there were five Union soldiers and nine Confederates.

On other rolls not 5 per cent. served in the Union army. More than one Union soldier in those days sorrowed to hear rampant rebellious utterances in the rooms and corridors of the Capitol. The flame of wrath mantled the cheek of more than one old veteran as he passed a group of these Democratic employees, and heard them avow that they were "as much of a rebel as we ever were."

Let our Union soldiers, and staunch Union people, throughout the land compare the Forty-sixth with the present Congress.

Speaker Kiefer won a Major General's star in the Union army, and bears four wounds as attests to his bravery. The Sergeant-at-Arms Colonel George W. Hooker led the Green Mountain boys to victory on many a bloody field, and the eagle graced no worthier shoulders than his as a reward for his bravery and his wounds. Braver soldier than Captain Tom Cavanaugh, the Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms, never carried a musket or sword for Uncle Sam. The Doorkeeper, Colonel W. P. Brownlow, a nephew of that noble old Roman, Parson Brownlow, wore the blue in East Tennessee until his native mountains knew but the flag he followed to victory. The Postmaster, Captain Harry Sherwood, gave a leg to his country while fighting in the van with Michigan's gallant sons.

Every man on the soldier roll lost a limb for the Union cause. Five of the seven employees in the Sergeant-at-Arms' office, and more than two-thirds of the employees in the Clerk's, Doorkeeper's and Postmaster's departments served in the Union army, or are sons of Union soldiers. And though the Democratic party has but seven Union soldiers in this Congress (with eighty-seven who wore the gray), the Republican party is represented by sixty-eight veterans who wore the blue.

And yet, in the face of these facts, the Democratic leaders would have us believe that they are the soldier's friends—that they are anxious to see him provided for.

The Wood River jail now holds seven murderers.

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to EVENING GAZETTE.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

Destructive Floods in Texas.
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., September 8. A violent rain-storm commenced at four P. M. yesterday and continued until midnight. The rain-fall was six inches. The streets were flooded and the San Antonio river rose eight feet in as many hours. The lower part of the city is flooded. San Pedro creek, passing through the western portion of the city, rose rapidly, washing away all the bridges and houses on its banks, and also carried away 50 bales of cotton. One man is reported drowned. The International Railway suffered severely between here and Austin. Several small bridges were destroyed. There are no trains over that road to-day. The San Marcos river is rising rapidly.

AUSTIN, Tex., September 7.
A terrific storm occurred this morning before daylight. The wind was almost a hurricane and did great damage. The Capitol building is so badly injured that it is thought it will have to be rebuilt. It cost $40,000. Baron's creek, south of the city, overflowed its banks, and washed fences and crops away. A flouring mill on the creek was washed away and another badly damaged. The loss will amount to many thousands of dollars.

A Rush for Panama Canal Bonds.

NEW YORK, September 8.
The Times has the following: The American committee of the Universal Inter-Oceanic Panama Canal Co. has lately advertised extensively that for a few hours on September 7th the public would be allowed an opportunity to invest $35,000,000 in subscriptions to a bond loan for payment of Panama Railroad shares bought by the Canal Company. There was no discernible rush to the company's office for these bonds yesterday, but the officers of the company announced early in the day that the demand was far ahead of the supply, and that large amounts had been subscribed here; but it was feared that anxious subscribers on this side of the ocean would offer disappointment, inasmuch as Paris capitalists had run in ahead and taken up the $35,000,000 before sunrise and were still sorrowing because they could secure no more.

Republican Gains in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, September 8.
Returns came in slowly. Not over one-fifth of the State is heard from. The final result will show that the Republicans have increased their vote 40 per cent. over any previous vote. They have doubled their numbers in the Legislature and by supporting Independents and Greenbackers have almost if not quite secured a majority. They also have one, and perhaps two Congressional Districts. Reports of outlying frauds continue to come in.

A Masonic Libel.

PHILADELPHIA, September 8.
Harrison G. Clark, Tyler of the Grand Lodge of Masons, whose name figures conspicuously in a report that, together with Wm. Shinn, Librarian at the Masonic temple, he conspired to libel Mrs. Edna Jordan, and was suspended to-day by the Masonic committee, the Grand Master of the lodge being present. It was decided that Shinn was the innocent tool of Clark. Mrs. Jordan has sued Clark for damage.

New York Gamblers in Trouble.

NEW YORK, September 8.
The streets and bar-rooms were filled last night with that class of people recognized everywhere and by everybody as gamblers. The universal story is that no gambling-house in the city is open and that their occupation is gone. It is supposed, of course, that it is only a spasmodic case of virtue on the part of the police and detectives and that the gamblers' haunts will soon be in full blast again.

Indignant Carpenters.

PHILADELPHIA, September 8.
To-day the ship carpenters at the Camden dry docks struck in a body, under orders from the Union. They were insulted because the company posted a notice that those who couldn't resist the temptation to pilfer ship and wood should leave the company's employ. Non union men will be tired.

Lorne and Louise.

CHICAGO, September 7.
At 9 o'clock this morning the Marquis of Lorne, Princess Louise and their suites left Chicago on a special train for San Francisco and British Columbia.

Hubbel Holsted.

ST. IGNACE, Mich., September 8.
The Republican Congressional Convention of the Eleventh District yesterday nominated by acclamation Edward Breuninger of Negaunee to succeed Jay A. Hubbel in Congress.

A Shooting Magistrate.

HARRISBURG, Ky., September 8.
Speed Taylor, a magistrate, shot and killed James Brown at Cornsfield, Mercer county, Wednesday night. Conflicting stories are told of the occurrence. Friends of each party claim that the other was drunk and threatening to kill.

The Yellow Fever.
BROWNSVILLE, September 8. There were 48 new cases of fever yesterday, and two deaths, Mexicans. There were four new cases of fever among the troops at Fort Brown.

FOREIGN TELEGRAPH.

EGYPT'S TROUBLES.

KASSASSIN, September 7.
A shell burst in camp to-day. The explosion was caused by an Indian building a fire over an unexploded shell. The soldier was blown to pieces.

It is stated that Arabi Pasha receives stores by the way of Damietta. It is also reported that some Turkish officers have joined the rebels via Damietta.

ISMAILIA, September 7.

The troops here, including the Highland brigade, will advance Saturday and bivouac that night at El Magena. They will reach Mahamah on Sunday and Kassassin on Monday. One English and one native regiment will be left to garrison Ismailia. The Bedouin chief, Abou Pasha, has called out six thousand men and joined Arabi Pasha.

ISMAILIA, September 7.
A general move to the front has been ordered. Our forces at Kassassin locks will amount on Saturday to 15,000 men with 50 guns. Only one correspondent at the front will be allowed to each newspaper, and each telegram will be limited to 500 words. An attack on the enemy is confidently expected on Monday or, at the latest, on Tuesday.

A Panama Shake-up.

PANAMA, September 8.
The damage done by the earthquake yesterday turns out greater than first thought. The cathedral and many large buildings are badly injured. Several lives were lost. There is no communication with Aspinwall, either by railroad or telegraph, and many bridges on the line of the railroad are broken.

French Officers Arrested.

BERLIN, September 8.
While the grand cavalry maneuvers were being conducted by the Crown Prince Frederick William yesterday, two French officers high in rank, in civilian's dress, were arrested. They had been making sketches of the ground.

Pasha Start for a Rendezvous.

CONSTANTINOPLE, September 7.
An imperial civil commission will leave here on a special steamer Thursday for Alexandria. Dervish Pasha and Baker Pasha, with their staffs, will start Thursday for a rendezvous in Crete. Turkish troops are assembling here as fast as possible.

Paying the Piper.

SHANGHAI, September 8.
The difficulty between Japan and Korea has been arranged. Korea has agreed to pay $500,000 to Japan and $50,000 as a recompensation to relatives of the murdered Japanese subjects.

WESTERN TELEGRAMS.

The California Greenbackers.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 8.
The Greenback Convention last night made the following nominations: Secretary of State, Robert Summers; Treasurer, R. T. Buell; Controller, M. E. Morse; Attorney-General, Mrs. Marian Todd; Surveyor-General, W. J. Culbertson; Superintendent of Public Instruction, E. J. Schellhouse. Congressmen—First District, G. C. Irwin; Second District, F. Woodward; Third District, W. O. Howe; Fourth District, Isaac Kinley. Board of Equalization—First District, Leonard W. Kidd; Second District, Thos. McConnell; Fourth District, J. S. Loveland. After choosing a State Central Committee the convention adjourned.

A Detective Killed.

LAS VEGAS, September 8.
Charles Harris, a Pinkerton detective, was assassinated last night at San Antonio, a small station a few miles south of Socorro. Two men alighted from an emigrant train and approached Harris, who was standing on a platform, and shot him dead. Both men escaped.

President Arthur arrived at Marblehead this morning.

The Illinois Supreme Court has refused a writ of supercedens in the case of Tracy, who killed officer Huebner. Tracy will be hanged in Chicago September 15.

The American rifle team made some improvement at Creedmore yesterday at long range shooting, but the results show room for considerable improvements.

Earl Spencer, in reinstating the dismissed Dublin policemen, granted them a free pardon, but expressed regret and surprise that they should be induced to take the step they did.

The Indians have fired the prairie in the Sand Coules and Freeman Creek region, Northern Montana, and the whole country is ablaze. It is a great stock region, and the cattle are being driven before the conflagration in immense herds.

The firemen thank Mrs. Frank Bell for the fragrant coffee she treated them with this morning. It was bestowed in the nick of time and the favor was fully appreciated by the fire ladders.

A Bold Push For the Fire.

When the alarm was sounded this morning, First Assistant Frank Perkins heard it, and left his comfortable encompartment to join his gallant comrades; but he couldn't find his clothes readily, and it was some time before he could collect his fighting costume. When he was equipped for the fray, he roared out to Kelly, his private Secretary, "Hitch up Bald Hornet and take me down to the fire, and hump yourself lively or it'll be out before we get there."

Clothing Lost by the Fire.

Mr. Knox of the Lake House was loser in the fire this morning to the extent of the large washing for the house and the family washing of a value of $300, the clothes being in the China wash-house that was burned; and General Evans of the Pollard House is also said to be a loser by the fire on account of having had clothing at the China wash-house.

Mint Matters.

Mr. Eckfeldt of the Government Mint Bureau at Washington has arrived in Carson to take testimony in the Mint investigation.

NEVADA FRUIT.

What May be Attained by Industry and Intelligence.

We do not believe that the capabilities of Nevada for agriculture are half appreciated. Had what is now accomplished in this State in farming been talked of as possible only a few years ago the proposition would have been considered nearly absurd. Notwithstanding all the disadvantages with which our farming people have to contend, says the Eureka Sentinel, we are satisfied that in the lapse of time this sagebrush country will be made to blossom as the rose. From several parts of the State, notably along the Truckee, Humboldt and Carson rivers, where the soil is alluvial and the

TEMPERATURE LESS RIGOROUS,

The fruit products, to say nothing of the cereals, are remarkable for their kind and variety. But the most satisfactory evidence of what can be done in Nevada in the cultivation of fruit is some samples of plums, apples, grapes and peaches that we have before us on the editorial table, brought to Eureka by Squire Irwin from his ranch in Nye county. Two plums, yellow and purple, are large, firm, sweet and very juicy. The bunches of grapes, of the small, black sort, are in dense clusters, substantial, well flavored and altogether nice. The peaches are fine and superior to those of California. As a rule larger and finer looking fruit is growing in California than in Nevada, but it is the rule, also, that fruit matured in Nevada is more

SUBSTANTIAL AND JUICY,

And of better flavor than that produced in California. Squire Irwin has been experimenting in fruit raising on his ranch for the last seven or eight years. At first he was not successful—he allowed his trees to obtain their normal growth. The wind, which is violent in his vicinity, as generally, at times, throughout Nevada, blew the blossoms off, or if the blossoms escaped the ravages of the wind the young fruit would fall a victim to it and be blown from the stems to the ground. He looked about him and took a lesson from nature. He saw the rusty cedars how they grew on the hills, close to the ground, with low trunks and the limbs spread out nearly on a line with the ground. He went to work and prepared his fruit trees to make them grow in the same way. He

PLANTED YOUNG TREES

And cut them off just above the first limbs and never allowed any tree to grow higher than his head. He thus saved them from the violence of the wind. The branches spread out, and as the fruit grew and matured it rested on the ground. His best fruit, he says, is that which rests on the ground, covered over with straw. He makes a great abundance of gooseberries, currants and other berries every year. Nor do the frosts kill the more tender fruits on his place, except the grape vines, of which nearly one-half are winter-killed every year. Hereafter he will save all these vines by bending them down and covering them over with straw and earth after harvest, until Spring. This year Mr. Irwin will sell to his neighbors in Duck valley between

FOUR AND FIVE TONS OF FRUIT.

From his remarkable success, attained by industry and thoughtful labor, it is plain that others may go and do likewise anywhere else, almost, on the slope. He says he feels as though he had just started in to find out a few of the many things about fruit raising that he knows he will come upon by experience. From year to year he will improve his fruits by purchase and selection of the best stock, and we feel sure that within the next five or six years his 40-acre orchard will be one which not only Nevada, but almost any State might be proud of.

Company C.

The Reno Guards bid fair to become one of the best, if not the best military company in Nevada. For the length of time it has been organized it can boast of being the best uniformed and equipped company of the State, and under Captain Moyer, who is hard to beat as a drill master, its members are fast improving. Each individual member prides himself on the company's progress, and the citizens of Reno who attend the exhibition drill on the 22d of this month will be surprised at the improvement the soldier boys have made since the Fourth. The company meets for drill to-night.

Reducing Ore in Reno.

It is probable that a large amount of ore from the mines of the southern country will be brought to Reno for reduction. It can be transported 200 miles on the Carson & Colorado road, and yet be worked at less expense than at its point of extraction, where wood and water are scarce and the cost of milling runs up to a high figure.

Winter Irrigation.

The winter system of irrigation is growing in favor not only with fruit-growers but with farmers as well. The folly of depending upon the capricious rain when one can flood his lands with fertilizing river water is gradually being made apparent to those whose location enables them to thus bid defiance to drought.

BUILDINGS BURNED.

A Lively Little Fire, But Not Much Damage Done.

This morning about four o'clock a fire broke out in one of the frame buildings on the west side of Virginia street, between Front and Second street, it is not sure whether in the Chinese wash house, Lewis' second-hand store or Ware's shoe shop. Before the water could be got on, the light and dry pine buildings were well started, and about a dozen were burned before the fire was extinguished. The loss will not be very heavy, and a better class of buildings will no doubt be put up. Those burned were Lewis' second hand store, with most of the contents; the Chinese wash house, Holesworth's carpenter shop, with some lumber (he saved his tools and that terrible horn he blows); a vacant house, formerly occupied by Prof. Kaufman; Fowle's harness shop, which was insured for $200; a vacant house, formerly used by Pechner, the tailor; a vacant store, Watson's shoe shop, Grove's photograph gallery, and Woman's Temperance Union rooms, insured for $150. The ladies saved all their furniture and have it stored in the Burke corner. They are looking for new rooms. The air was very still at the time of the fire, or the loss would have been heavy. The Pavilion could not have been saved if there had been a wind blowing from the west, and all the buildings on the east side of the street would have gone. As it was, Mr. Fish put out fine himself on Needham's furniture factory. The fire companies did the best they could, and for the time of night it was, deserve great credit for confining the fire to houses that were joined. The hose carts got mixed by some means, and when No. 2 tried to couple on two lengths of No. 1's hose a delay of a few minutes occurred. The usual difficulty of getting men to drag the engines and man No. 2's brakes occurred, but people not interested forgot that they may have a fire themselves some day.

A Sad and Lonely Death.

In the street, near the rear door of Schooling's store, lies the dead body of Thomas Felix, who, some time on Wednesday night—no one knows when—with no friend near to hear his dying moan or soothe his last moments, closed his eyes to the joys and sorrows of this heartless world. All day yesterday the body lay there, and as the rays of the rising sun gilded the gas house this morning, it sent up a message to the nostrils of passers-by to send for the Street Supervisor. Whether it will be taken off and buried or left there to dry up and blow away, is one of the interesting questions of the Fall campaign.

Keep Your Money in the State.

The wholesale department of E. Chielovich & Co.'s Wine House is filled with the best of everything, and any orders sent to them will be promptly and honestly filled. This firm has been doing business in Reno for the past ten years, and is one of the most reliable on the coast. Mr. Chielovich understands every branch of the business, and being connected with the largest wholesale house in San Francisco, is prepared to furnish liquors at prices lower than any other house. Give him a call.

The Miners' Picnic.

The Miners' Union have arranged a splendid programme for to-morrow and the fare is put down to $2 for the round trip, including admission to the grounds. Reno will send a good delegation and all will enjoy it, for the Union knows how to manage a picnic to make all feel at home. The excursion cars will be attached to the regular morning express, leaving Reno at 7 o'clock, V. & T. time. Don't get left.

The Downeyville Mines.

M. Raphael came up from his Downeyville mine day before yesterday. He says his smelter is running steadily and producing bullion regularly. It has been enlarged and improved, so that it is one of the best of its kind to be found anywhere. He will probably erect another this season.

Reno Guard Team.

The Reno Guard will send a team to Carson to contest for the prizes offered by the Miners' Union. The following gentlemen will compose the team: C. H. Stoddard, Du-an, Doc Rodgers, F. A. Teasland, Fred Pavolo, Sam Myers, Jacob Leonard, E. L. Bridges and R. F. Hoy.

A Good Time Coming.

The Reno Guard will give an exhibition drill and dance on Friday the 22d inst. The Committee of Arrangements intends opening the season and making this a party long to be remembered. Read the company's ad. in another column.

Japs For Yale.

Six young Japanese went east this morning on the express, to enter Yale College. They are very intelligent youths, and exhibited a keen interest in everything they saw, but were particularly taken up with the monster freight-engines of the C. P.

Hostess Department.

Sallie Magaw of Wilmington, Delaware, wants to know where her brother, J. O. Traynor, is. If he is anywhere in this section, alive or dead, she will be thankful to hear from or of him.

An Honorable Craftsman.

The Carson Appeal says the charge that Powning has ever been a "rat" printer is one which was years ago disposed of. It was used in 1871 to beat him for the office of State Printer, and greatly assisted in accomplishing its purpose. During the campaign Mr. Powning emphatically denied the accusation, and asserted in unmistakable terms that he was not working in Sacramento at the time his enemies accused him of being a "rat." The Chronicle must be hard up for material when it can only bring up issues of other campaigns long ago disposed of.

McArthur's Remains.

At the inquest this morning Thomas McArthur, brother of the man killed night before last, said he was 29 or 30 years old and was born in Massachusetts. The coroner's inquest was postponed to obtain the testimony of the brakemen of the train by which McArthur was killed. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

About Finlen.

There was a report in town last night that Miles Finlen had been shot at Eureka, and that it was feared he would recover; but the reporter could trace the rumor to no reliable source.

Treat all Chronic and Special Diseases

YOUNG MEN

WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM

There are many at the age of thirty and even who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by slight pain, or a burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and some small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thick milky hue, again changing to a dark and turbid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genital-urinary organs.

Office Hours—10 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 12. A. M. Consultation Free. Through examination and advice $5.
